THE DAILY AVALANCHE.

Mollie E. Moore is the poetic genius of Texas.

Mr. Stanton is not anxious to bring the suit of Mr. Smithson for false imprisonment, to trial. His counsel are postponing it.

It is reported that President Johnson will send General Swayne and his regiment to the Plains, very soon.

"Drop negro suffrage or you can't elect Grant," said McCulloch to a Republican recently.

The teller in a Boston bank "stepped over" the Canadian border the other day, with $50,000 of the bank's money in his pocket.

An Irishman named Ryan, once employed by the New York Herald, is said to have fallen heir to $300,000.

Mr. Jefferson Davis was entertained the other day by Admiral Buchanan, at the residence of the latter, near Easton, Maryland.

Colin McRae has become disgusted with Honduras on account of the denseness of the forests, and is going to Jamaica.

The negroes in South Carolina have got to stealing loaded wagons on the road and appropriating contents, wagons, and mules to their own use.

The total number of deaths in Cincinnati, during the past twelve months was three thousand six hundred and thirty-five—an average of nearly ten each day.

General McKinzie, who recently suppressed the Brownsville Ranchero, has been relieved by General Hancock. A. McD. McCook takes his place.

The St. Louis Republican says it is probable that General Rousseau will be Pope's permanent successor. Meade, it seems to be conceded, does not want the place.

The Little Rock Gazette says that the convention which is to assemble in that city on the 7th of January, will be variegated by the presence of six Africans, so far as heard from.

The President was asked to reinstate Governor Wells, of Louisiana, in order that the levee bonds might be legally issued before the close of the year. The request was not granted.

At Rome, Georgia, a few days since, a soldier belonging to the Thirty-third infantry, named John Bowen, was instantly killed by the accidental discharge of a gun in the hands of a comrade.

A Paris physician says that six cigars a day will shorten a man's life five years. Then twelve cigars will shorten it ten years, and a proportionate number will kill him on the spot.

In the case of Morris Gratz against the proprietors of the Cincinnati Commercial, claiming twenty thousand dollars for an alleged libel, the verdict of the jury was twenty dollars for plaintiff.

A call is in circulation in New Jersey, and receiving thousands of signatures, for the assembling of a convention at Trenton, January 22, to organize an opposition party to the Camden and Amboy railroad monopoly.

Miss Florence Davis, daughter of J. M. Davis, a prominent commission merchant in Louisville, was knocked over by a runaway horse and buggy, and seriously though not dangerously injured.

Dr. J. G. Holland (Timothy Titcomb) lectured in New York Friday evening last, and said that he thought marriage rather than suffrage is the panacea for the grievances of woman. All the young women agree with him.

The New York World says: "Messrs. Jay Cook & Co. inform us that neither Senator Sherman, nor any other public functionary in or out of Congress, has now, or ever has had, any direct or indirect interest in, or connection with, their firm."

Charles H. Parker, conductor on the Pennsylvania railroad, was stabbed and killed near Johnstown, on Monday last, by Samuel Hull, who refused to pay his passage, and committed the deed because the conductor was stopping the train to put him off.

King Theodore, of Abyssinia, is evidently cast in the heroic mold of Jack Falstaff. Determined to do nothing "upon compulsion," and hearing of the extent of England's preparations to compel the release of the British subjects, so long held in captivity, he has released them himself.

A flattering correspondent who wants a situation on one of Mr. Seward's icebergs or volcanos, thus speaks of that gentleman: "He wears the appearance of better health than he has presented for years, and to visitors of an evening, his speculative and philosophizing mind shines vivacious and elastic as ever."

At a fair held in Finley, Ohio, a gold-headed cane was put up to be voted for, and presented to the most popular candidate for President. The vote stood eight hundred and seven for Pendleton, and five hundred and forty-three for Grant. The cane will be presented to Mr. Pendleton at the State Convention, to be held on the 8th of January.

A Yankee soldier, named John Crane, deserted the Thirtieth Massachusetts regiment, in garrison at Sumter, South Carolina, and married a widow living near by. A few days ago Crane threatened to kill his father-in-law. The latter procured a warrant for his arrest, and Crane was shot dead while resisting its execution.

The President said to a Congressman Monday that reports from the Carolinas through General Canby show there is as much or more distress and suffering in those States than in Mississippi or Louisiana. According to these and other official reports, destitution is so general there must be a vast amount of misery, and beyond any efforts of Congress or private individuals to afford adequate relief.

Some half a dozen prominent Yankees in the town of Wrentham, Massachusetts, have had a verdict rendered against them for riding Patrick Kennedy and Patrick Travis on a rail on the day after the assassination of President Lincoln. They defended their course on the ground that one said he was glad the President was dead, and that the other hung and burned him in effigy. There were several women engaged in rail-riding the parties, but no action has yet been brought against them.

The friends of a prisoner confined at Sing Sing, New York, under sentence for an offence against the United States, have requested to have him transferred to the Ludlow street jail, New York city, for the reason that he is very ill and in danger of death. The President, it is said, has no power except to pardon. The Court, having pronounced the sentence, has no further jurisdiction, and no other officer, State or National, can find authority of law for ordering the transfer.

JEFFERSON DAVIS.

A graphic sketch of Jefferson Davis, in his personal and intellectual character, appeared recently in the Pensacola Commercial, and is supposed to be from the pen of the Hon. S. R. Mallory, Confederate Secretary of the Navy. We append the more salient points:

Men in commanding positions, and mingling much with the world, readily acquire ease and repose of manner, and a control, more or less perfect over their emotions, and especially over all manifestations of surprise; and we not unfrequently hear them say that they are "surprised at nothing."

This important defensive armor is habitually worn by Mr. Davis. Where and when he acquired it, whether among his Indian friends of the frontier, or among Christian hypocrites, we know not, but he rarely goes without it. As Chief of the Confederate States he could listen to the announcement of defeat while expecting victory, or to a foreign dispatch destructive to hopes long cherished, or to whispers that old friends were becoming cold or hostile, without exhibiting the slightest evidence of feeling beyond a change of color, a tell-tale which he could never entirely command; and yet his sensibilities are extremely accute.

Military life, in all its phases, had for him a peculiar charm; and military affairs, however minute, rarely failed to command his patient industry, whatever might be the claims of other matters upon it. No labors of the War Office were too small for his attention, and appointments and promotions of officers, questions of rank, military law and usages, routine, etc., very often engrossed it, notwithstanding his entire confidence in the experience and judgment of the Adjutant General Cooper, upon all such subjects.

Letters from afflicted mothers, relieving their hearts by telling him of the virtues of sons just fallen in battle; complaints of friendless soldiers, demanding at his hands justice for wrongs inflicted by those in authority; applications for pardon or commutation of sentence; petitions from wives for the release of conscripted husbands, or from farmers for the restoration of impressed stock, were in numerous instances read, their merits carefully considered, and responded to by him; and when the applicant for justice was evidently friendless, he rarely lost sight of the case or devolved its adjustment upon others.

Though apparently cold and exclusive, Mr. Davis is naturally genial and sympathetic; and few men prove more attractive in private society. No man delighted more to relieve his burthened heart and mind by pleasant conversation upon general subjects, a taste which the seclusion of a Cabinet meeting and the presence of trusted friends prompts him frequently to gratify; and, upon such occasions, aided by the inspiration of a good cigar, rambling pleasantly over other fields than those of public affairs, his conversation and manner were engaging. His extensive reading and retentive memory, his accurate observation and acquaintance with distinguished or noted men, his knowledge of life, from the backwoodman's hut to the halls of Senates and Cabinets, were never at fault for striking illustrations of every subject presented.

He is a good judge of men; and from indications which often escape the observation of others, he frequently determines the general designs of those with whom he is brought into contact before they have had time to become reserved. His knowledge of the habits of men in different walks of life, their modes of thought and expression, and peculiarity of language, is remarkable, and enables him to bring himself at once to the level of those with whom he converses, to use their own familiar phrases and figures, and to be thoroughly with them—a species of flattery which gratifies, and is apt to make a man communicative.

Mr. Davis' manner of receiving visitors at times showed that he had had much experience in public office. Few men could be more chillingly, freezingly cold. Those who came without special appointment, usually found him engaged with a mass of manuscript papers before him, telling as plainly of his occupation as his formal and scanty courtesy did of the importance of his time and his sense of its interruption. There was no waste of words, no ignoring of his pre-occupation, few generalities; and, in spite of any amount of self complacency, sensible men soon felt, they knew not exactly why or how, that it was wrong to engross his time if they could, while bores were convinced that they could not engross it if they would, and their stay was generally brief, his face yielding its only approach to a smile when he saw them depart.

GEN. BUCKNER'S PROPERTY.

His Suit Against the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company.

From the Louisville Courier of yesterday we learn that the suit brought by General Buckner against the Louisville and Nashville railroad company, and about which so much has been said and written, has terminated in his favor. The facts in the case are as follows: In 1861, while the Confederate army was at Bowling Green, the Louisville and Nashville railroad company instituted a suit, accompanied by an affidavit by its President, Mr. Guthrie, that General Buckner had destroyed the splendid bridge which spanned Green river, and alleged that he being in the rebel army his property was subject to attachment to cover the damages. Under the laws enacted by the Legislature in 1861, the attachments were levied upon all his estate in Kentucky, consisting of an elegant residence in Louisville, a house and two lots in Elizabethtown, a farm of some hundreds of acres, being his ancestral home, in Hart county, and his library and furniture, and a large amount of other personal property. Without any process being served upon him a verdict was obtained, under the statutes then existing, of more than sixty thousand dollars. The residence and farm were sold by the Marshal, and purchased by the railroad company, who paid for it by giving General Buckner a credit on their judgment. The personal property was also sold, and the proceeds paid to the railroad. By his parole, General Buckner, after the war, was not permitted to return to Kentucky, but about six months ago, by attorney, he filed a pleading in the nature of a petition and answer, asking to be made a party to the suit, and alleging that he did not destroy the bridge, but had he done so, he would have been justified by the laws of war. A re-trial was ordered. Various preliminary questions were decided against him. The objections were met by additional preparation. After two arguments the case was submitted for final judgment, but before the Chancellor had given his opinion the railroad company agreed to surrender to General Buckner his property, which they held, and last Monday Colonel R. W. Woolley, for General Buckner, took possession of the Louisville estate, and is authorized to enter upon the Hart county property. It was also agreed that the question of rents and profits due General Buckner, and some money expended by the railroad company in making improvements, should be referred for adjustment to the Commissioner of the Court, to report the accounts between the parties, and General Buckner agreed not to institute a subsequent suit for damages because of the attachment.

Shoulder Straps at Loggerheads.

Concerning the threatened duel between a Captain and a Major General at the National capital, a Washington telegram says:

The difficulty originated at the opera, on Monday evening, in this way: The Captain referred to, who is noted for his gallantry and politeness, occupied a seat in the orchestra, and seeing in a private box a friend with whom he desired to speak, he endeavored to pass out in the direction nearest the point he sought. On the same line of seats with the Captain was the Major General, at a distance of some three or four chairs from the end. The occupants of all the intermediate seats, with the exception of the Major General, quietly arose to let the Captain pass out. The man of two stars, however, was leaning against the row of seats in front, and showed no sign of moving aside. The Captain said to him, "General, please allow me to pass out for a moment." The Major General answered, without moving, "This is not the way to pass, sir. You shall not get out this way. Go around the other way." "General," said the Captain, "I thought you were a gentleman. You are a General, and ought to be a gentleman, but you behave like a ruffian. Allow me to pass."

At this point a person in military uniform, who was in company with the General, remarked to the Captain, "That is not the way, sir, in which to address a General."

The Captain replied, "My quarrel is with that man," pointing to the General, "and not with you. Allow me to pass"—to the General. The General refused to budge, and the Captain seeing a number of ladies about, and unwilling to interrupt the performance by a row, restrained his indignation and passed out in an opposite direction.

It is said that the Captain has since sent a challenge to the General, and proclaims that he will brand him in the newspapers if he refuses to "come out." The affair caused quite an excitement here, as the parties are both well known, and have many friends in Washington.

Washington Rumors and Gossip.

General Grant and the War Department.

Investigations of the Whisky Business.

Loss of a Steamer on the Hudson River.

NEW YORK, January 3.—A Washington special to the Herald says the rumor that Grant will refuse to retain his position in the War Office, if ordered to do so by the President, cannot be traced to a reliable source. If such an order was received it will be acted upon by Grant with a proper sense of right and duty.

It is stated that if the House Finance Committee don't propose a bill to secure the re-issue of greenbacks equal to the amount withdrawn from circulation by contraction, such a bill will be presented by General Butler.

Mr. Judd is pursuing the investigation of the whisky business, which will probably lead to an action by Congress looking to the more vigorous examination of the workings of the Internal Revenue Bureau.

No private letters passed between the President and General Grant relative to the removal of General Pope.

The Times' Washington special says that General Grant took no action upon the telegram from New Orleans, urging the restoration of Governor Wells, in order to save the levee bonds from becoming worthless.

General Howard has not issued orders forbidding Bureau officers to engage in politics in the Southern States. He has established a rule that the acceptance of an office must be considered as incompatible with the duties of officers of the Bureau.

A Tribune special says the State Department has not been informed by Burlingame of his acceptance of the Chinese embassy.

The statement that General Howard had indorsed a proposition for a loan $30,000,000 to Southern planters, with a lien on their estates or crops, is incorrect.

The steamer Tarrytown was cut through by ice, yesterday morning, and sunk in the Hudson river. Her cargo was of merchandise, and valued at $30,000, which is a total loss.

NEW YORK, January 3—12 m.—Gold opened at 133¼; at 11 a.m. it was 133⅞, and is now 133⅞.

In cotton the demand is active and remains at full prices.

ALABAMA ITEMS.

A Conservative club was formed at Eutaw on the 23d.

A paper is circulating at Montgomery to obtain the names of freedmen for emigration to Liberia.

Mr. Randolph, editor of the Independent Monitor, at Tuskaloosa, promises at an early day an expose of the circumstances which led to his being bound over to keep the peace.

At Coffeeville, Saturday night week, Mr. David Marks was dangerously shot in the back by some unseen person while standing in the door of his store.

A freedman in the employ of Mr. George C. Rogers, of Perry county, was killed recently by his head being caught between an arm of the cog wheel and the bulkhead of the band wheel, while the gin was in motion.

Captain A. P. French, of Demopolis, who killed William Conkery, of the same place, some eighteen months ago, was week before last at Linden, found guilty of manslaughter and sentenced to five years' imprisonment in the penitentiary.

Gabe Henley, in a card in the Montgomery Advertiser, denies that his name was placed with his consent or knowledge on the list of delegates to the Radical county convention. He says: "I have no lot in politics and desire to see all of my race cultivate a spirit of kindness and friendship for the old white citizens of Alabama."

On the 24th instant, Major Pierce, Agent for the Freedmen's Bureau, stationed at Demopolis, came to Eutaw, and at his discretion, under an order from General Swayne, proceeded to turn out six freedmen confined under different charges, and all legally imprisoned. This is the second proceeding of the sort at that place.

MULES AND CATTLE FOR SALE.

Immense Sacrifice of Property near Grenada, Mississippi.

I WILL SELL my valuable tract of Land lying in the valley of Yallabusha river, two and a half miles from Grenada, containing 1881 acres of land for Two dollars per acre; five hundred acres are cleared; good farm improvements on the place, and in better days valued at from twelve to fifteen dollars per acre. Its nearness to Grenada and the railroad makes it a commanding place. The timber on it alone, if judiciously managed, is worth three times the money.

With this place I will sell fifteen head of mules at $100 per head, making $1500, the cost of which was to me over $2,300. I will also include my stock of cattle at ten dollars per head, which includes three yoke of oxen and fifteen or twenty cows. The cattle may number thirty or forty head, more or less. I will throw in all the farming tools of the place to the purchaser and one mule wagon, and several sows and pigs that may be found on the premises.

Here is a bargain. Come with YOUR MONEY, as I SELL FOR CASH, and to leave the country which has been my home for thirty years.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

IT is authentically stated that one-fifth of the inhabitants of this country and Europe die of Consumption. No disease has been more thoroughly studied, and its nature less understood; there is no disease upon which exists a greater diversity of opinion, and no disease which has more completely baffled all medical skill and remedial agencies.

Some of the prominent symptoms are: Cough, Expectoration, Shortness of Breath, Irritation about the Lungs and Chest, Darting Pains in the Sides and Back, Emaciation, and general negative condition of the whole system.

Persons suffering with this dread disease, or any of its concomitants, should lose no time in possessing themselves of the proper Remedy, in order that they may stay its ravages and be restored to health.

THE REV. E. A. WILSON'S

PREPARED PRESCRIPTION

Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds and all Throat and Lung Affections,

By the use of which he was restored to health in a few weeks after having suffered several years with a severe lung affection and that dread disease Consumption, has now been in use over ten years with the most marked success.

This Remedy is prepared from the original Recipe, chemically pure, by the Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON, 165 South Second street, Williamsburgh, King's County, New York.

A pamphlet containing the original Prescription, with full and explicit directions for preparation and use, together with a short history of his case, with symptoms, experience and cure, can be obtained (free of charge) of Mr. WILSON, as above, or by calling on or addressing

EDITORIAL
THE PEN IS MIGHTIER THAN THE SWORD.

SATURDAY, : : : : : : : : JANUARY 4, 1868

THE AVALANCHE publishes this morning the Letter List, furnished us by the Postmaster. It will reach as many readers as if published in any other city paper. We are not in the habit of boasting of our circulation, but feel satisfied that we are not exceeded, in that respect, by any of our cotemporaries. We are gratified that Postmaster GIST should have selected our paper, and we cordially thank him, believing at the same time that it is in accordance with the wishes of our citizens.

OUR citizens could not avoid an expression of their gratification over their unprecedented triumph on Tuesday, and had a general rejoicing yesterday afternoon, the details of which will be found elsewhere in this paper. It did not need such a demonstration to show the general joy that pervaded every circle—the radiant glow of jubilation beamed in every face. The streets were thronged with joyous crowds passing words of congratulation, and speaking hopefully of the future. In every department of business more confidence was experienced, and those coming in from the country, while surprised at our good fortune, eagerly united in the general jubilee. It was a great triumph—a triumph of the people over every obstacle—even their own apprehensions. Cowed down, if such thing were possible to true Southern hearts, by an arbitrary power whose despotic reign has weighed upon them like an incubus, they had almost become disheartened and repugnant to what might prove a fruitless effort. But the doom of the city, the revolting expectation of social degradation, and the most abject and inevitable ruin to every interest hung upon the result, and taking matters in their own hands, the people determined that such things should not be. With a resolution as resistless as the tornado, but without its violence, they chose their standard-bearer and marched on to battle and to victory. All honor to our Irish and German and Italian fellow citizens! They were not to be cajoled by the honeyed words of promise, or swayed by the pregnant offer of pecuniary reward. They saw, with that natural instinct which asserts itself for self-preservation, the degraded position into which Radicalism would reduce them, and their brave hearts revolted at the idea. Their concentrated strength had been regarded as purchasable, but they taught another lesson, filling their and our enemies with dismay and confusion. "The white man's party" has stricken down that miserable faction that would have rendered the white man subservient to the negro. We shall not now have negro jurors, negro policemen, negro legislators. Our Board of Aldermen is proudly Conservative, and the Radicals, who have crept into it on the votes of negroes, are powerless to do injury. The vox et præterea nihil applies to them. They cannot sting. The glad tidings have gone forth to the world on the wings of the lightning, and gratulations will be pouring in upon us from every quarter in a few days. Our credit that was sinking, if it had not already sunk, out of sight, will be revived and be brought back to the surface again. Our Mayor elect is known to the nation. He has occupied an enviable position in the nation's councils. He is familiar with the commercial world, and his great and glorious triumph will awaken the interest of capital that the prospect of the election of a Radical had entirely diverted. Our bonds will go up, our scrip rise with the leaven of [illegible], and labor and toil receive new [illegible]. They can implicitly rely upon reward. All this may not be the growth of a day, but it will as surely follow as that day and night succeed each other. There was no man whatsoever may be his branch of business—no matter what his occupation, could resist the inspiration of renewed confidence when the bright sun rose upon him yesterday to gild the great victory. The dark fiend who revels in despotic acts and devilish thoughts beneath the panoply of his ill-got station, may brood in his rage over this signal defeat of his tyrannical attempt to bridle and curb the expression of the popular will. He may even attempt to exercise new powers to express his malignity. But his day is almost drawn to a close, and the shadows of the night are suspended above him, not indeed impalpable, but ready to fall with a crushing weight to obliterate him forever. What a boon our people struggled for! In their success were bright inspiring hope, and the onward march in a prosperous career to be crowned with content and happiness—a restoration of free government and constitutional law, protecting all alike in person and property—reviving the principles of justice, and prostrating the wicked influences that sprung from usurpation, and filled the land with dismay and ruin. Is it remarkable that with these incentives they should win so proud a victory—that, as an enthusiastic individual remarked, they should drive the black-hearted Radicals to their holes, and make them pull in their holes after them? The new year has dawned auspiciously upon us. It has enabled us to send greetings to those great Democratic States that gave us their sacred honor they would not help to force upon the Southern people negro suffrage and negro equality. We can tell our Northern friends that at the ballot box we have accomplished the lesson they taught us, and we send back our grateful appreciation of the example they furnished. We feel, now, that we, too, are free, and although there are among us many, very many, who remain disfranchised, the dawn has come, the sun is rising in the heavens, and already has shed his beams above the horizon, to light a day of universal liberty.

THE following interesting telegraphic correspondence will be read with unmingled pleasure. The gallant officer who transmitted the gratifying intelligence of our municipal victory to the Chief Magistrate of the nation, has endeared himself to the citizens of Memphis, by his manly and courteous deportment, and the admirable arrangements he made for the preservation of peace and order on the day of our election, should there have been a necessity for the interposition of his forces here. The Radicals were too badly beaten at the ballot-box to permit even their desperation to get the better of their natural cowardice, and the appearance of several hundred men "armed cap-a-pie," and who sympathized with white people, did not "screw their courage to the sticking place." The impromptu speech of General GRANGER, when "called out" on Monday evening, was received by the people with unmixed satisfaction, and they are proud to have with them one who makes himself their friend, when the time no longer endures when he should be their enemy. Should BROWNLOW cut up any capers we shall expect that he will be baffled in his wickedness. President JOHNSON has not lost his confidence in the people.

MEMPHIS, January 2, 1868.

To President Andrew Johnson, Washington, D.C.:

Memphis redeemed. Leftwich elected Mayor. Peace, order and quiet prevail. Free white suffrage vindicated.

GORDON GRANGER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 3, 1868.

To General Gordon Granger:

Thank you for the good news. Truth and justice must triumph. My faith in the people has not been diminished. The day is not distant when Tennessee will be redeemed.

ANDREW JOHNSON.

WE cannot help congratulating our friends, that one of the morning city papers, which was not the Appeal or AVALANCHE, carefully abstained from any expression or preference in the late municipal election. As it boast of "the largest city circulation," which nobody believes, it might have been disastrous if it had been outspoken, and taken sides with its Radical friends, provided it could have carried any influence with it. Or, it might have proved detrimental if it had espoused the Conservative cause, for those who are not over confident of its honesty of purpose, might have suspected that all was not right. Honorable JOHN W. LEFTWICH has the satisfaction of knowing that he is under no obligations to the Bulletin for urging his election over either the regular candidate of the negroes or the combined forces of independent Radicals and weak-kneed, time-serving, "so called" Conservatives. That paper, after the nomination of our triumphant candidate for Mayor, said "nary a word" on the subject until after the election was determined.

The rank and file are to follow as soon as the recruits can be brought together, and a sufficient amount of money collected.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

Mr. Joshua Baller Appointed Governor of Louisiana.

The Louisiana Constitutional Convention.

Rumor that Schofield will Remove the Virginia State Officials.

General Meade en route for Georgia.

The Message of Governor Bullock, of Massachusetts.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, January 3.

Major General Meade left this morning for Atlanta, Georgia, to assume command of the Third Military district.

Alex. H. Stephens, of Georgia, writes from Philadelphia to a friend that his physical constitution is very feeble—he is hardly able to sit up in bed. He is expected here by the middle of next week.

Judge Sharkey, of Mississippi, has arrived here to conduct the case of Major McCardle, before the Supreme Court.

It is currently rumored that Schofield will shortly remove the Virginia State officials and appoint others in their stead.

It is stated that the President intends soon to issue a proclamation to the white people of the Southern States, advising them to send delegates to the approaching National Convention.

The special message will probably be sent to Congress directly after re-assembling, concerning the situation of affairs at the South, which the President regards most alarming. Official advices bear out fully newspaper and private accounts, and it is feared a reign of terror and starvation will exist unless prompt measures are taken to prevent so great a calamity.

A prominent Georgia Radical writes that if Congress does not immediately amend the reconstruction laws so as to permit the majority of the actual voters to adopt the Constitution, and also take the power of appointing civil officers away from the military commanders and give it to the present State Convention, there is great danger that the object for which the Convention assembled will be defeated.

NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, January 3.

His Excellency B. F. Flanders, Governor, having resigned that office, Mr. Joshua Baller is hereby appointed, etc.

The same order assigns Brevet Major General Buchan to duty as commander of the district of Louisiana, and assistant commissioner of the Freedman's Bureau.

The Times says that the new governor is a native of Kentucky, but an old citizen of Louisiana. He was a member of the Philadelphia Conservative convention of 1866, is fully qualified under the reconstruction act, and can take the required test oath.

The convention to-day resumed the discussion of the equality question. After much discussion, the following, offered by Mr. Pinchback, was adopted as the thirteenth article of the constitution.

"All persons shall enjoy equal rights and privileges traveling in this State in any conveyance of a public character, and all business places or other kind carried on by a public charter, or for which a license is required by either State, parish or municipal authority, shall be deemed places of a public character, and shall be open to all without discrimination as to race or color."

In reply to a communication from Governor Flanders, charging the police jury of Orleans parish with official corruption, and recommending their removal, General Hancock says the charges present a proper case for judicial investigation and determination. The courts of justice afford adequate remedy for the corrupt practices complained of, and it is not advisable to apply the remedy suggested.

BOSTON.

BOSTON, January 3.

Governor Bullock was inaugurated to-day. His message reports that the progress of education was never so favorable. The funded State debt is $24,000,000. The Governor, accepting the decision of the people, recommends a positive enactment concerning the regulation and control of the liquor trade.

Concerning national affairs, he says: "Let us hear no more of confiscation and attainder for the Southern masses. Let us make an end of illiberal legislation, and while compromising no principle for which we have contended, let us restore the lately rebellious States to equality and their rights as speedily as possible, consistent with national safety. The present obstacles to reconstruction must come to a speedy end, whether imposed by unrepentant rebels, or by a President who does not make treason odious, or by those whom his policy has deluded into new resistance. If embittered men refuse to accept the boon proffered them, the responsibility, the shame, and the ruinous consequence will be theirs alone. If they are so blind to their own interests as to excite hostility between races, they will find the nation will maintain its guarantee of rights to loyal men."

He further says that equality and universal suffrage are irrevocable facts. He favors Grant for the Presidency.

LOUISVILLE.

LOUISVILLE, January 2.

The river is falling slowly, with nine feet eight inches in the canal by the mark. Weather very mild.

Governor Cox, of Ohio, has ordered a special election for member of Congress in the Eighth district of that State, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Mr. C. S. Hamilton.

A man was recently arrested in Grand Rapids Michigan, who had in his pocket $8,000 in counterfeit scrip and $6,000 in counterfeit drafts. He will spend the next five years in prison.

The Helena Clarion says of the Helena and Iron Mountain railroad: We are informed negotiations are now pending which are likely to result favorably. Certain capitalists now hold under advisement propositions submitted to them by the board of directors, which, if accepted, guarantees the construction of forty miles of the road next year.

The Spaniards, far from meditating a sale of Cuba—as was reported a week ago—are, on the contrary, intent on binding it closer to the monarchy by means of an ocean cable. By royal decree, the Colonial Minister at Madrid has been directed to take the matter in hand, and he has accordingly invited tenders for a line, to pass southward to the Canaries, across to Porto Rico and Cuba, and thence to Mexico, Panama and South America.

A Southern University.

A project is on foot for the establishment of a Southern University in the United States, and the assistance of English Churchmen in attaining that object has been sought by the Rev. F. W. Tremlett, of St. Peter's, Belsize Park. The movement is not a sectional one. It is intended as an offering to the whole American Church, and not to the Southern States as against the Northern. Nor does it proceed from any single party in England; both High Church and Low Church are associated in it. All the archbishops and most of the bishops, all the colonial, metropolitans and many well known leaders of Church opinion approve of it, and have expressed their willingness to co-operate. Several eminent statesmen, both Conservative and Liberal, have promised to assist. Among the subscribers are Mr. Gladstone, Mr. Gathorne Hard, Earl Stanhope, the Earl of Shaftesbury and Lord John Manners. Upon the committee are the Earl of Carnarvon, Lord Cranborne, Earl Nelson, the Archbishop of York, the Bishop of Oxford, Mr. Beresford Hope, Mr. Gladstone. There certainly could be no better representation than this of different sections of Churchmen. The feeling which has led to the movement is the desire to draw closer the bonds of sympathy between England and the United States and the English and American churches. The cordial reception given to the American Bishops who attended the Pan-Anglican Synod has already produced very gratifying results, and it is felt that to assist in the establishment, or rather the restoration, of the Southern University, would further strengthen friendship and mutual respect. It will be a pleasing memento of the visit of the American prelates to England.

The Kansas City Journal winds up an editorial on "Destitution at the South," with the following threat of further Radical vengeance, in case the autocratic demands of that party are not speedily complied with: If political dissensions are kept up another year, by the rebels refusing the terms of reconstruction, and by their opposition to impartial suffrage, giving rise to an antagonism of races, the worst period in the history of the South, may be yet to come.

ARKANSAS ITEMS.

A State convention of the Union League of Arkansas will be held at Little Rock on the 13th of January.

As far as heard from, the vote on dividing Prairie county into two judicial districts is: For the division, 330; against, 194.

The Des Arc Crescent of the 24th has the following items: "Middling cotton is selling here at eight and a half cents. Pork is selling at ten cents. The lakes and bayous of this county are swarming with wild ducks."

There is a gentleman at Duvall's Bluff who expects to slaughter six thousand head of cattle. He commenced making his arrangements for active operations on Monday morning.

A call appears in the Herald for a meeting of the farmers and planters of Ouachita county at Camden, on the 6th of January, for the purpose of organizing an agricultural association.

From the Arkansian we learn that the Conservatives of Washington county were to have met on Saturday last at Fayetteville, to perfect a county organization, and to appoint delegates to the Democratic State Convention.

The Chicot Press of the 7th ultimo says: Another effort is being made to complete that necessary improvement, the village levee, and this time the work is in such hands as to give assurance of its being finished ere the overflow season sets in.

Speaking of the myriads of grasshoppers which have made their appearance in Sebastian county, the Herald says: "We have them in our streets, and their bodies and legs are of the popular color—black, and they appear to stand the cold. Being black and so hardy, we presume they are Ironclad."

Mr. I. Green Garland, of Jacksonport, the gentleman who was convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary by the military, for "insulting the United States flag," is again at liberty. Under what code he was found guilty of any crime—whether civil, criminal or military, human or divine, we are not informed.

The following is from the Pine Bluff Dispatch of the 21st ultimo: Since our last issue we are called upon to announce the sad intelligence of the death of Dr. J. McGregor, who died on the 16th instant, after a sudden and painful illness of only a few days. Dr. McGregor was well known throughout the community of Pine Bluff, and as a gentleman, a physician and a citizen, there was none more highly respected.

The New Era of the 25th says: "A middle aged, sandy whiskered, light complexioned man, was found last Sunday in Mazzard creek, with the back of his head split open, done apparently with an ax. His pockets being turned inside out, makes the murder appear as having been committed for plunder. He appeared to have been dead about a week.

The Searcy Record says pork is selling there at eight cents per pound, and cotton at from eight to nine and a half cents. The statement carries its own comment with it. Where freedmen will permit it farmers had better raise hogs than cotton.

The Fort Smith Herald of the 21st ultimo says: "We learn from Colonel J. B. Luce, who has returned from the Creek Nation, and who was present at the Creek council, that the utmost harmony and good feelings prevails among the Indians. Colonel Sam. Chicote, the present principal Chief, was a colonel in the Confederate army, and Micco Hatkey, the second Chief, went North with Opothleyoholo, and is a leading man of that portion of the Creeks, yet, notwithstanding the former differences, and during the session of the council in the selection of their officers, the only qualification required was capability without regard to former political divisions, and officers were selected from both parties. The Creeks are again going into the raising of rice, which will be pleasant news to many of our readers who have used the rice raised by these Indians many years ago."

The editor of the Crescent recently traveled with a merchant of White county who gave him a melancholy account of the financial condition of the people in that section. He said the people owed him $22,000 for supplies furnished this year, and if they would pay him $2,200 cash, he would receipt their accounts. He also met a gentleman who lives on the Mississippi river below Helena. He informed him that large plantations in his neighborhood were being offered for the ensuing year free of rent. He said planters had lost immensely—some of them as high as $40,000. He thought the disposition as well as ability to produce cotton next year was utterly destroyed, and that hundreds of acres of fine land would be surrendered to weeds. He said there was great destruction among the negroes, and that they were killing stock all over the country.

MULES AND CATTLE FOR SALE.

Immense Sacrifice of Property near Grenada, Mississippi.

I WILL SELL my valuable tract of Land lying in the valley of Yallabusha river, two and a half miles from Grenada, containing 1881 acres of land for Two dollars per acres; five hundred acres are cleared; good farm improvements on the place, and in better days valued at from twelve to fifteen dollars per acre. Its nearness to Grenada and the railroad makes it a commanding place. The timber on it alone, if judiciously managed, is worth three times the money.

With this place I will sell fifteen head of mules at $100 per head, making $1500, the cost of which was to me over $2,300. I will also include my stock of cattle at ten dollars per head, which includes three yoke of oxen and fifteen or twenty cows. The cattle may number thirty or forty head, more or less. I will throw in all the farming tools of the place to the purchaser and one mule wagon, and several sows and pigs that may be found on the premises.

Here is a bargain. Come with YOUR MONEY, as I SELL FOR CASH, and to leave the country which has been my home for thirty years.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—Our city patrons are requested not to pay any one for subscriptions to the AVALANCHE without a certificate from the office authorizing them to collect.

GALLAWAY, RHEA & CLUSKEY.

NOTICE.—The proprietors of the AVALANCHE will from this date (7th day of December, 1867) refuse to pay the individual bills of any person connected with the paper. No debts against the AVALANCHE will be paid unless they originate in the office.

THE NEW BOARD.—The new Board of Aldermen will contain fourteen Democrats and six Radicals—an assurance that the affairs of the city will be honestly and fairly administered.

THE SCHOOL BOARD.—This Board will, as present constituted, consist of twelve Democrats and eight Radicals—a sufficient majority to insure efficiency and honesty.

PAY OR NO PAY.—The vote on Thursday as to whether the next Board of Aldermen should be paid or not was as follows: Pay, 636; No pay, 267. So the city legislators will receive a salary.

COMMITTED.—'Squire Miller yesterday sent to jail two negro women named Lizzie Bowles and Malinda Gilbert, charged with stealing a "pair of breeks" from M. Hammock, at 72½ Main street.

COMMITTED.—Justice Hall yesterday heard the conclusion of the evidence in the Galvin-Fenton case, and committed Galvin to jail to await his trial on the charge of murder in the first degree.

RAFFLES.—There will be several raffles at Henry Weatherbee's, on Saturday evening, the 4th instant, at eight o'clock. Horses, dogs, jewelry, etc. All interested are notified to be on hand punctually.

ROBBED.—The show window of Messrs. Sproule & McCown, No. 221 Main street, was broken yesterday morning, and a lot of sleeve buttons, scarf pins and other articles abstracted. The job was the work of some of the "mackerel brigade."

SENT TO JAIL.—William Irwin, a negro, was arrested yesterday, charged with stealing a satchel full of clothing from a room over Spicer & Anderson's. He was sent to jail to await an examination this morning.

NOT THE PLACE.—We stated yesterday that a man had been beaten at Joyce's saloon, on Front street. We have since been informed that we were in error, and that the affray did not take place in that saloon, but in the neighborhood.

THE BANKER'S SET.—The beautiful silver set, consisting of pitcher, goblets and tray, put up at the fair of the Congregation Children of Israel, to be given to the favorite banker, was awarded to C. P. Norris, Esq., the popular Cashier of the First National bank.

ARRESTED FOR STEALING.—A man named J. C. Williams was arrested by officer J. Cusick, on yesterday, for stealing two shawls which were laying on a trunk at the Overton Hotel. We hope that he will meet punishment, for there is much stealing, and few convictions, and a little wholesome discipline might put a stop to these petty thefts.

CORRECTION.—An error occurred yesterday morning, in our statement of the majority of Mr. Leftwich over both the Radical candidates. His real plurality over both is 351—over Beecher 907, and over Fitch 1,850 votes. We are glad that we got the figures too small, as it is much more pleasant to increase the majority than it would be to reduce it.

THE NEW MEMPHIS.—Schiller's great play of "The Robbers" was upon the boards of the New Memphis last night, and the tale of horrors was well rehearsed. In regard to Mayo and Anderson as the brothers DeMoor, we have to say that the characters were well sustained, and those who witnessed "The Robbers" last night, saw indeed an intellectual treat. To-night will be produced "The Apostate."

Emmons & Son, No. 10 Jefferson street and 393 Main street, have received the New York Ledger, Metropolitan Record, Frank Leslies Chimney Corner, Boston Pilot, Sunday Times, New York Clipper, Irish Citizen, Irish American, London Lancet, Turf Field and Farm; also Beadles Song book, from No. one to No. twenty, Kelly's Weekly, American Artisan, Dime Illustrated, Sporting Times; also Atlantic Almanac, for 1868. Call on Emmons & Son for your reading matter.

DOMESTIC ROSIN OIL.—Messrs. Lewis & Bloomfield, proprietors of the Southern oil works, at New Orleans, desire to call the attention of painters, hardwaremen and ship chandlers to their rosin oil. It is represented to be free from all impurities that would impair its efficiency in mixing with paints, or lubricating purposes. So useful a home enterprise will be amply patronized, especially as the oil is offered at New York prices. The manufacturers are both old citizens of New Orleans.

A FINE BAND.—Every person in Memphis, yesterday, who witnessed the Beecher funeral procession, must have been pleased with the band which led the procession, and which discoursed such excellent music. It was the old Memphis brass and string band, under the direction of Professor Smith, and the sweet tones of harmony which they on all occasions evoke is their best recommendation.

Joe Locke, 22 Jefferson street, AVALANCHE building, received by last night's mail the Turf, Field and Farm, Irish People, Metropolitan Record, New York Herald, New York Tribune, New York World, Boston Pilot, Frank Leslie, Freeman's Journal, Irish American and the Clipper, besides a host of others. His stock of stationery, playing cards, ink, pencils, paper, etc., is large and well assorted.

A NEW COMBINATION.—We are pleased to learn that Drs. R. W. Mitchell and R. B. Maury have entered into a copartnership in the practice of medicine, and we can confidently say to our readers that this combination is quite an acquisition to Memphis. Both gentlemen, possessing a public reputation and private honor untarnished, are confessedly at the head of their profession, and we welcome them heartily, as well as all their companions in arms, to an extended field of usefulness.

A FALSE RUMOR.—We heard a rumor yesterday, no doubt put in circulation by interested parties, that Colonel Cockrell, the present host of the Gayoso House was about giving up his hotel, and had concluded to lease it in the spring. From what we know in regard to the Gayoso, its great Southern patronage, and the gentlemen connected with it, we feel warranted in contradicting the rumor, and making the assertion that the Gayoso will continue to be in the future, what it has been in the past, the hotel of Memphis, and of the South.

STOCK STOLEN.—Several cases of stock stealing were reported to the police yesterday. The first was a bay horse, belonging to James Reilley, of the county clerk's office, which was stolen from in front of the Greenlaw opera house, on the night of the 3d. It was valued at $150. Also a black mule, on the same night, from in front of Apperson's store, the property of T. C. Baker, and valued at $100, and a brown horse from A. Engle, at Joyce's stable. The thief pretended that he wished to purchase the animal, and, to test his pace, he got on his back and rode off; but up to the present time he has forgotten to return. The horse was valued at $125.

Protection of Foreign Born Citizens.

A meeting of the foreign born citizens of Memphis, of all nationalities, in which the participation of the American people is earnestly looked for, will take place at the City Hall, on Thursday, the 9th day of January, 1868, for the purpose of placing before the United States Government the necessity of enforcing as well as establishing the naturalization laws of this country, as laid down and adopted by this Government.

POLICE RETURNS.—The quarterly return of Captain S. S. Garrett, of the First Metropolitan Police district, for the months of October, November and December, shows the total number of persons arrested during the quarter to have been 873, classified as follows: American, 287; Irish, 263; Germans, 40; English, 4; Italians, 12; French 2; Jews, 11; colored, 254. The amount of fines assessed was $6,043, of which $4,442 were collected by mittimus and otherwise. Stolen property to the amount of $1,266 45 was recovered. The returns of the Second district, made by Captain P. S. Simons, for the same period, shows the number of persons arrested to have been 819, classified as follows: Americans, 188; colored, 399; Irish, 168; Germans, 26; Hebrews, 9; Italians, 14; English, 3; French, 9; Scotch, 2; Indian, 1. The amount of fines assessed was $7,083 50, of which $4,114 were collected. The amount of stolen property recovered was $5,768 25.

RECOVERED.—We detailed yesterday morning the robbery committed at the house of Mr. H. Phillips, on the corner of Beale and Hernando, and that a trunk was taken containing nearly $500 in gold and silver, $2,500 in Southern funds, $600 of certificates of stock in the German National Bank, and $600 in the Memphis and Little Rock railroad, together with two gold and two silver watches, etc. The loss was reported at police headquarters, and detective Connell succeeded in arresting the thief, a negro named Jim Woodruff, and in recovering a considerable portion of the stolen property, which has been restored to the owner.

Detectives Hastings and McCune succeeded yesterday morning in recovering a beautiful enameled gold watch, stolen from Miss Zimmerman, on Court street, in August last. A colored boy was suspected as being the thief, and has been watched by the detectives for a long time, but it was only recently that they got any trace of the watch. The fellow has been arrested, and has been held for examination.

CANE PRESENTATION.—A very pleasing little ceremony took place last evening among the employes of the Postoffice, of which we are enabled to give the following particulars. Mr. Wm. G. Taylor, in behalf of the letter carriers, in presenting two handsome canes to Messrs. John Durff and James Dowling, addressed them as follows: "Messrs. Durff and Dowling—Allow me in the names of the letter carriers attached to this office, as a mark of their high appreciation of your uniform courtesy, and their respect for you as gentlemen, to present you with each a cane. You will be reminded of the donors when you use them, and we trust that the recollection there may be agreeable memories of the uninterrupted good feeling that has distinguished all our intercourse." To which Mr. Durff in behalf of Mr. Dowling and himself said: "Mr Taylor—Nothing could be more gratifying than to be the recipients of such marked evidences of your esteem. My friend, Mr. Dowling, unites with me in returning you our grateful acknowledgements, and to assure you that the expressions of friendship and appreciation you have just uttered, are fully reciprocated."

Glorious "Pinch," and its People.

Enthusiasm of the White People of all Races.

Grand Meeting at the Opera House.

Cameron, Wallace, and Donovan Talk to the Democracy.

The Friends of the White Man Serenaded.

Yesterday, the Democrats of Memphis turned out en masse to give expression to the joy which they experienced over the victory they had achieved the day before. It was no long planned or well digested scheme to bring a crowd of people together; but it seemed to be thoroughly understood that some such manifestation was necessary and would be eminently proper, and when it was announced through the columns of the evening paper that such an event would occur, and when the first notes of the band gave forth that the time had arrived, from school house and factory, from cotton office and store, from behind the counter and the pickaxe, came the brain and the muscle of the city to testify once more its joy at its great great deliverence from negro supremacy, and the threatened thraldom of a man who has never hesitated at stealing anything from a raft of saw logs to a pauper's dinner. About three o'clock the band appeared on the balcony in front of the Titus block, and soon a large and enthusiastic crowd was assembled in front, who, upon request of Colonel Monsarrat adjourned to the east side of Court square, from which point he informed them that the proposed procession would start. In about half an hour thereafter the cortege was moving toward Main street, led by Smith's splendid brass band, which was followed by carriages containing the Democratic candidates elected, and the people. There were about twenty-five carriages, besides any number of other vehicles, in the procession. The sidewalks were teeming with thousands of white men, who were unable to obtain seats, and who were too enthusiastic to give up on this account their participation in the procession, and who followed it through all its wanderings until the Opera House was reached, where the speaking was to take place. The cortege moved up Main street to Poplar, where it turned off to Front row, and followed the latter to Washington street, where it struck the classic boundaries of "Pinch," whose noble people have done so much in this contest to make every man who has a single drop of Celtic blood in his veins feel prouder and happier for it, and thank his God that his natal prayers were said beside an Irish mother, or one who could claim kindred with the men and women who are generated in the Isle of Saints. In thus speaking of the almost historic record of the people of "Pinch," we hope not to understood as being invidious, or as entertaining any wish to filch from others their meed of praise on account of the noble deeds of Thursday, for all the white men of Memphis on that day did well, and the Teuton vied with the American, the Celt buried his historic quarrel with his Anglo-Saxon brother, and like the children of demigods marched forward to the deed which has raised our city from the gutter of proletarian negro control to the position of freedom, light and liberty which should of right belong to all communities that have derived their God-given rights through the blood and sweat, the ideas and combinations of a thousand years of struggle for liberty.

Entering "Pinch" shout upon shout rent the air, and old men and grandmothers, the suckling infant and the stalwart man, the millionaire and the woodsawyer, the lawyer, with his quilps and cases, and the poor hod carrier, who trudges his daily nutriment up a ladder with an hundred pounds upon his back, vied with each other in their welcome to the unexpected visitors who came in obedience to a natural and a Democratic instinct to do them honor. Naught cared the men in that procession whether those they visited were millionaire or hod carrier, lawyer or trader of wheelbarrow; whether they wore broadcloth or shoddy, they were all the same. They were white men, and had gone into the contest with their race and kin, and all stood one and indivisible upon the same white platform. Coming from "Pinch" the procession drove down Second street, amid the cheers and plaudits of the multitude, the waving of handkerchiefs and the whispered God speed of the ladies, heaven bless them, until the Opera House was reached, where, falling into the hospitable hands of the genial GRIFFIN, who facetiously represented the Agrarian, we took an observation through a cutglass of the beautiful frescoes on the ceiling of the "Opal." The observation was satisfactory, and it is unnecessary for us to say spiritual, when we adjourned for the scene.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

Arrived at the Opera House, and placing ourselves at the reporters' table, a brilliant spectacle burst upon our sight. Never before have we seen such an audience within its confines. True, niggerdom, when it nominated Beecher, filled it to its utmost limits; but decency and brains and honesty were as scarce in that audience as are ideas in the head of the nondescript of the Criminal Court, whom ex-Alderman Grace ran from the polls of the Eigth ward, on Thursday, as quickly as if he had the honor to be a yellow "fist" with a tin can tied to his tail. Who did we see there? We saw men whose intelligence and integrity, whose means and energy, whose heart and brain, whose voice and brawny muscle had upheld the waning fortunes of liberty on more than one continent. Men who had valued liberty and principle above the suggestions of interest and the dictates of pelf. We saw men the capacity of whose talent was fit to fill all the positions which that concretion of known political wisdom—the Constitution of the United States—had guaranteed to all the white descendants of Adam. We saw men whom a Washington, a Scehiler, an Emmett, a Kossuth, a Tell, or a Roger Williams might have taken by the hand and saluted as peer, without a sacrifice of candor. We saw no Beecher, no Lewis, no Hunter, or other slimy thing, crawling between heaven and earth, and belonging to neither. The view of the audience did us good, although we were prepared for it, and we awaited with interest the moment when the proceedings would begin. Soon as the audience were seated, Colonel Monsarrat, who has worked nobly in this canvass, with a singleness of purpose which is found nowhere else but in that society whose great component part is honesty, introduced to his enthusiastic friends and admirers their noble mayor, John W. Leftwich, who, feeling every word he said, thus communed with his ardent admirers:

Dr. Leftwich commenced his speech by telling his friends that the ovation of which he was the recipient would have confounded him, had he not been certain that it was a tribute to the principles he represented and not to him. The men assembled before him were not there to glorify him, but to celebrate a battle well fought, and a victory nobly won on principle, and he claimed no honor that he was not willing to concede to the humblest man in the audience—that of having done his duty well towards the white people of Memphis. It was but a skirmish in the great battle of constitutional liberty, and he asked the men before him to uphold his hands in the great trust and responsibility with which they had invested him. He contrasted the present condition of the great Democratic party with its condition on the night on which he had accepted the nomination, and drew from thence great auguries of good. He felt proud and happy that Memphis had been saved from the domination of negro rule, and that we now stood in the position to help the rest of Tennessee to do the same. While standing before the people to celebrate the great victory, a bad thought would intrude upon his mind. He saw before him old men, tottering toward the grave, with almost all the honors of their country blest—men who were his superiors in almost everything—who were unable to vote—who were disfranchised by the present execrable laws of Tennessee. While this state of facts exists, there can be no peace in the State. There is and there ever will be a just cause for disaffection, and he declared it to be to the best interests of the city, the State and the country to have such degrading laws numbered among the things that were. He went on to show conclusively that the Radical party which we had just defeated was the primitive mother of all such monstrosities, and advocated it as a settled principle of the voting Democratic party of Memphis that they should enjoy no privilege which their brethren were denied. In advocating this doctrine its enemies had brought against him the argument that if he were to succeed in enfranchising what they called the rebels of Tennessee, they would vote against him and defeat him, because he was a Union man. With a mind charged with honest scorn, he repudiated this phase of the question, and proved to the satisfaction of his auditors that he would be worthy of their scorn should any such selfish consideration enter into his course upon this great question. His argument against the injustice of the present laws of Tennessee was most conclusive, and he clinched his argument by the citation of the well known political axiom that those who bear the burden of taxation should participate in the privileges of the Government. His compliment to the Irish and German element of our population was good, and not only good but true. He prophesied that in the next November election the vote of the white man of Tennessee would be cast for the Democratic candidate for President. He paid his respects to the paralytic at present occupying the Gubernatorial chair of Tennessee, and said that in regard to the present election he would do nothing, because he, obtuse as he was, had seen and read aright the handwriting on the wall, and he had learned the lesson that it was too late for him to think to deprive the white people of Tennessee of their inalienable constitutional rights. He concluded by asking the people to bear him up in his official acts, as the position he had assumed was one of trying responsibility.

When Dr. Leftwich had concluded, the band discoursed some most excellent music, and at its conclusion Colonel Charles Cameron was loudly called for, and delivered one of his characteristic speeches, which we are sorry we cannot lay before our readers this morning. He was followed by Attorney General Wallace, who paid his respects to his protege—the nondescript—and proved that the State of Tennessee and the county of Shelby had been stolen by the Radicals, and that the city of Memphis had just narrowly escaped a similar fate. Colonel Lacey followed him, in a speech explaining the cause of his withdrawal, alike creditable to his head and heart, and John Donovan closed the proceedings at the opera house.

The procession again reformed, and paid its respects to General Pike, John Ainslee, Colonel M. C. Gallaway, and to the Democratic newspaper offices, discoursing most excellent music, and making the people feel as if the second great era of American liberty had dawned.

MURDER.

His House Robbed of $50, and he is Left to Die.

We are called upon this morning to record the occurrence of another of those horrible tragedies which has done so much lately to darken the history of our State. The particulars of the affair are as follows: Early on Thursday morning, in a little cabin on the Mitchell place, in Nonconnah bottom, four miles from the city, was discovered the victim of one of the most shocking tragedies we have ever recorded. For some time past a German named Joseph Wolfsberg has lived in the cabin referred to, alone. His occupation was that of cutting wood for the Memphis market. After sunrise yesterday, some neighbors saw him sitting on the floor of his cabin, his head buried on his breast. In response to the question whether he intended going to town, he feebly raised his hand and pointed toward his neck. They went in, and on examination, discovered that his neck had been horribly gashed, and that Wolfsberg was barely alive. The bed near by contained a large quantity of blood, and a bloody hatchet was found on the floor. Being asked if he knew who assaulted him, he slightly inclined his head forward, but could not speak. It was evident that he had been assaulted in bed, and that, holding his head back, the murderers repeatedly hacked his neck with the hatchet. The weapon was too dull to cut the jugular vein, but severed the windpipe, inflicting several horrible gashes. The poor man was breathing through the aperture thus made, but was unable to furnish the stricken spectators any facts, it being impossible [illegible] trace words on paper with a pencil. Medical attendance was summoned from [illegible], but it being apparent that if any attempt were made to close the gash, death would at once ensue, found it impossible to administer any relief. Wolfsberg died about one o'clock in the afternoon.

The Coroner was sent for, and when he arrived upon the scene, a jury was immediately summoned, who investigated the case, and one of the witnesses testified as follows:

Wash Hodge (colored), sworn—Yesterday morning I came to his house about sunrise; came after meal; he was sitting in the corner; I asked him if he was going to town; he did not speak, but shook his head; I gave him water, and sent for Dr. E. A. White; he came and sewed up the gashes in his neck, made by a hatchet by some person; the trunk was broken open and things lying about loose; there were seven gashes in his throat; I saw his wagon loaded with wood, ready to go to town; he has been in the habit of going to bed early and rising early; Abraham Robinson, colored, hallooed to me, on Wednesday night, about midnight, found that my house was on fire; got up and put it out; a large stick, a knife and hatchet were lying on the floor near him; the hatchet cut his windpipe plum in two; died about one o'clock, p.m., Thursday, January 2, 1867.

It appears that Wolfsberg was at one time a citizen of St. Clair county, Illinois, where he acquired some property, and was married to a lady, Johanna Schaf, on the 25th of August, 1866, and that he was in Price's army. It was known that he had a small sum of money in the house, for which, no doubt, he was murdered.

MISCELLANEOUS.

There was a fair amount of business done on the levee yesterday, several boats in port discharging and receiving cargoes. The warm and genial sunshine rapidly dried up the mud, and made outdoor work much more agreeable than for several days past. If we have seemed at all remiss in this column, or neglected anything that should have occurred to us, it has been that we have felt such interest in the election that, like Hamlet, we threw aside "all trivial fond records" and gave all our energies in the struggle to be free. Memphis never saw more persons on the streets; and while we write, a large crowd has assembled and are wending their way in procession to the Greenlaw opera house, uniting in one immense huzza for the achievement of the day before. The new wharfmaster, Robert Good, was too much for his competitors. He ran on the straight-out ticket. Although carrying dead weight in the multiplicity of canidates, yet his high standing for integrity, and his amiable and courteous manners carried him through. He will give the most unbounded satisfaction, and in him the city will have an efficient officer. We have shed tears for our late friend Steve, but his ruse de guerre or coup de grace, which ever it was, when he courted the leaguers, was unfortunate, and the vox populi wrested him from us, alas! alack! It was about as much use for him to run as it was for Fitch. He should have known better, when the Beecherites selected another as their champion. He should be satisfied however, for the successful candidate is such a good fellow. Captain Steve Wilkins has during his term proved himself to be an efficient officer, and has, we believe, given the utmost satisfaction to the people at large. With the river men, he has always, by his uniform courtesy, rendered himself acceptable, while he attended rigidly to the duties of his position. They will be loth to part with him, but at least will have the reflection, that a good and competent officer is elected in his place.

The Worsham House is as popular as ever, and its tables rejoice in all the luxuries that can be procured in this market; and all the accommodations are of a superior character. Its guests are always satisfied, because they are furnished with the best of cheer. If one wants to see a gentleman from Arkansas he is as certain to find him at "the Worsham," as if he were to look for him at Pine Bluff or Little Rock.

Suit was brought in the United States court at Pittsburg, recently, by Hugh Campbell, John McMillan and John Shaffer, against the steamer Armenia, to get an injunction to restrain that steamer from using a certain capstan claimed to have been patented. It is understood that this is merely a test suit, and if the plaintiffs are successful, they will exact remuneration from all steamers using the capstan for the privilege of using the same.

The unsurpassed and swift passenger steamer Des Arc, in command of Captain John Elliott, is receiving at the wharf for White river and all through points to Jacksonport, and leaves to-day at five p.m. She has good passenger accommodations, and is in charge of good officers. Messrs. Wm. Miller, Cad Hanks and Mat Glass, a trio of gentlemen and efficient officers, are her clerks.

The Guidon cleared last evening for Little Rock, with a fair trip, the Mollie Hambleton, for St. Francis river, and the Mayflower for Evansville.

The Alice V, Welcome and Westmoreland passed down for New Orleans, yesterday, and the Tom Stevens for Little Rock. The Alice V and Welcome received some cotton at this point.

The magnificent Mollie Able will be here to-day, to receive for New Orleans, and leave on Tuesday in place of the Henry Ames.

The Ruth leaves to-day at ten a.m., for New Orleans.

The M. S. Mepham, Captain McDowell, leaves at ten a.m., for Cairo and Louisville. Mr. Owen Gates is her chief purser.

The Countess, Captain House, backs out to-day at 5 p.m. for New Madrid and all way points in the bends. Messrs. Kelvy and Sangster are her gentlemanly clerks.

The Sam J. Hale leaves at 5 p.m for Cincinnati.

The Cora S, en route to Louisville, was caught in the storm Monday night, above Evansville. She was blown in among the trees, and her guards were smashed and damaged, and one chimney knocked down.

The Belle Lee, we are assured, can readily and handily stow 5,000 bales of cotton, and her owners are sanguine that she is a better and a greater cotton boat than even the famous Robert E. Lee. She far surpasses her in beauty, and it is claimed that she will equal her in speed.

The Liberty No. 2 is the regular Saturday United States mail packet for White river. She leaves to-day at five p.m., and goes through to Jacksonport, connecting at Duvall's Bluff with the train for Little Rock. The Liberty No. 2 is a first-class boat, has superior passenger accommodations, and is in charge of experienced and careful officers. Captain John B. Davis, the Pioneer of the White river line, commands. Captain Morton, Milt. Harry and Charley Sharpe, competent and clever gentlemen, have charge of the office.

The fourth volume of Wallace's United States Court reports contains the decisions by which State Courts are prohibited from proceeding against water crafts by name, and by which admiralty jurisdiction over navigable waters is vested exclusively in the District Court of the United States.

The Bart Able, in command of Captain Harrison, leaves to-day at five p.m for New Orleans and the bends. She will make all way landings. Mr. Culbertson, a gentleman noted for his urbanity and uniform kindness, has charge of the office.

HO! FOR SALT RIVER.—The steamer Radical, Steve Wilkins master, W. H. Fitch, Jr., clerk, Grandma Hunter chamber maid, D. P. Beecher slush cook, and Bill McLain steward, has started for Salt river, with a heavy freight of contempt cases and league rituals, expecting to pick up all they can lay hands on on the way. The crew is entirely colored, with Barber Lewis as mate. It is expected that the boat will be moored when she reaches her destination—especially if the country contiguous shall afford fine pasturage for such cattle, and their predecessors do not drive them off as greater adepts in knavery than should be tolerated even in the most depraved community. Perhaps some of the party may wish to part company on the way from weariness of such companionship, but the Grandma will not leave as long as she can find knitting to do.

MONETARY.

DAILY AVALANCHE OFFICE, SATURDAY, January 4, 1867.

The result of the election has animated our people with joy inexpressible save in their radiant faces. Some of the heaviest capitalists took their chances on the independent Radical candidate who, for the ontlay and endeavors, was the worst defeated man we ever knew, but the people saved their property for them. They remind us of the sage remark of Franklin, (when a man owning so much property could vote and he who had not so much could not, and the property of the voter consisted of an ass of the required value,) that it was the ass that voted and not the man. Men who are feverishly anxious about their money or property, sometimes in their nervousness commit great follies. We think that some of our people —that is, the would be leaders of the people—betrayed a similar weakness. As we remarked, they are better off than they would have been if left to themselves, and may look forward to improvement in real estate and business generally. They will not have an opportunity of buying city scrip to pay their taxes, at any lower figure than it has been held, for even yesterday there was a firmness which our city paper has not of late exhibited. Among those who were so anxious to saddle the Secretary and Manager of the would be gas monopoly on the people of Memphis, the following names may be mentioned: Captain Charley Church, Murphy & Cash, W. B. Greenlaw, H. G. Smith, I. M. Hill, etc., who participated actively in the election, and had the satisfaction of seeing their candidate beaten quite five to one. We know not who among them claim now to be Conservatives, but presume after the ruddy glow of shame wears off their faces, they will scrape up a new acquaintance which may bring them again into the conservative ranks, but no more as captains.

Gold yesterday was 132 and Silver 122. City scrip was firm at 81, and we know one established house that bought all offering at that price. It will not be many days now before those figures will be left longo intervallo. No change in Police and County Scrip. Cotton was firm, and the advance maintained.

FRENCH MEDICINES PREPARED BY GRIMAULT & COMPANY

Chemists to His Imperial Highness Prince Napoleon.

THESE different medicines represent the most recent medical discoveries, founded on the principles of chemistry and therapeutics. They must not be confounded with secret or quack medicines, as their names sufficiently indicate their composition; a circumstance which has caused them to be appreciated and prescribed by the faculty in the whole world. They widely differ from those numerous medicines advertised in the public papers as able to cure every possible disease, as they are applicable only to but a very few complaints. The most stringent laws exist in France with regard to the sale of medical preparations, and only those which have undergone an examination by the Academy of Medicine, and have been proved efficacious, either in the hospitals or in the practice of the first medical men, are authorised by the government. This fact must be a guarantee for the excellency of Messrs. GRIMAULT & CO.'S medicines.

Dr. Leras' (Doctor of Medicine) Liquid Phosphate of Iron.

The newest and most esteemed medicine in cases of CHLOROSIS, PAINS IN THE STOMACH, DIFFICULT DIGESTION, DYSMENORRHEA, ANEMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY and POORNESS OF BLOOD. It is particularly recommended to regulate the functions of nature, and to all ladies of delicate constitution, as well as to persons suffering under any kind of debility whatsoever. It is the preservative of health par excellence in all warm and relaxing climates.

No More Cod Liver Oil—Grimault's Syrup of Iodized Horse Radish.

This medicine has been administered with the utmost success in the hospitals of Paris. It is a perfect substitute for COD LIVER OIL, and has been found most beneficial in DISEASES OF THE CHEST, SCROFULA, LYMPHATIC DISORDERS, GREEN SICKNESS, MUSCULAR ATONY and LOSS OF APPETITE. It regenerates the constitution in purifying the blood, it being the most powerful depurative known. It has also been applied with happy results in DISEASES OF THE SKIN. Further, it will be found to be of great benefit to young children subject to HUMORS and OBSTRUCTION OF THE GLANDS.

This new medicine is considered to be a sovereign remedy in cases of PHTHISIS and other DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It promptly removes all the most serious symptoms. The cough is relieved, night perspirations cease, and the patient is rapidly restored to health.

N. B.—Be sure to see that the signature of GRIMAULT & CO. is affixed to the bottle, as this syrup is liable to imitations.

No More Difficult or Painful Digestion—Dr. Burin du Buisson's (Laureate of the Paris Imperial Academy of Medicine) Digestive Lozenges.

This delicious preparation is always prescribed by the most reputed medical men in France in cases of derangements of the digestive functions, such as GASTRITIS, GASTRALGIA, LONG AND LABORIOUS DIGESTION, wind in the stomach and bowels, EMACIATION, JAUNDICE and COMPLAINTS OF THE LIVER AND LOINS.

Nervous Headaches, Neuralgia, Diarrhea, Dysentery, Instantly Cured by Grimault's Guarana.

This vegetable substance, which grows in the Brazils, has been employed since time immemorial to cure INFLAMMATION OF THE BOWELS. It has proved of late to be of the greatest service in cases of CHOLERA, as it is a preventive and a cure in cases of Diarrhea.

Ferro Manganic Powder, prepared by Burin du Buisson, approved by the Academy of Medicine in Paris.

A small quantity of this powder in a glass of water is sufficient to obtain instantly an effervescing mineral and gaseous water to be drunk at meals, either pure or mixed with wine.

It is a most valuable medicine for persons suffering from Chlorosis, Stomach Aches, and for Ladies suffering from Difficult or Suspended Menstruation. It is especially recommended to persons unable to digest the ordinary medicines containing iron. This celebrated preparation has the advantage to prevent all tendency to constipation, and to contain a certain portion of manganese, considered by the most eminent medical men as indispensable in cases of treatment by ferruginous medicines.

No More Copaiba and Cubebs—Grimault's Capsules and Liquid Extract of Matico Vegetalis.

Where all other medicines have failed these preparations will always effect a cure. They insure rapid and extraordinary cure of severe, recent and chronic cases of private diseases. They are used in the hospitals of Paris by the celebrated Dr. Ricord, and are found greatly superior to all hitherto known mineral remedies and copaiba and cubebs. The injection is used in recent and capsules in the more chronic cases.

General Depot:

In Paris, at GRIMAULT & CO.'s, 45 rue Richelieu. In New York, E. FOUGERA, 30 North William street,
In Memphis, G. W. JONES & CO., 237 Main Street.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

A cough, a cold or a sore throat requires immediate attention and should be checked. If allowed to continue, irritation of the lungs, a permanent throat disease or consumption is often the result. Brown's Bronchial Troches, having a direct influence to the parts, give immediate relief. For bronchitis, asthma, catarrh, consumptive and throat diseases, Troches are used with always good success. Singers and public speakers use them to clear and strengthen the voice. Obtain only "Brown's Bronchial Troches," and do not take any of the worthless imitations that may be offered. Sold everywhere. eod4m

ERRORS OF YOUTH.—A gentleman who suffered for years from Nervous Debility, Premature Decay, and all the effects of youthful indiscretion, will, for the sake of suffering humanity, send free to all who need it, the receipt and directions for making the simple remedy by which he was cured. Sufferers wishing to profit by the advertiser's experience, can do so, by addressing, in perfect confidence.

JOHN B. OGDEN,
je15 tmw No. 42 Cedar street, New York.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, for children teething, greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation; will allay all pain and spasmodic action, and is sure to regulate the bowels. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and relief and health to your infants. We have put up and sold this article for years, and can say in confidence and truth of it what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—never has it failed in a single instance to affect a cure, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operation, and speak in terms of commendation of its medical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "what we know," after years of experience, and pledge our reputation for the fulfillment of what we here declare. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. Be sure and call for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," having the fac-simile of "Curtis & Perkins" on the outside wrapper. All others are base imitations. Sold by all druggists throughout the world. Price only thirty-five cents per bottle. TRAIN ON GRANT.

Grave Head-shaking Won't Do.

[illegible] the General is a Gigantic Sell.

George Francis Train made a speech in Boston one night last week, in which he dissected the "great reticent" after the following style:

"The moment a man goes to Training [laughter] for the White House, as Grant has been since Shiloh, he courts criticism. The office holders are now after him like the pilot fish after a shark. Grant at the head of the army was safe, but Grant for President is the most gigantic sell ever put off on an intelligent people. [Laughter, 'O!' and dissent.] Whenever I meet him, I have the inclination to say, 'General, I have only five minutes time, tell us all you know.' [Laughter.] The dress circle may be fooled with this head-shaking business, under the proverb that 'young people should be seen and not heard;' but the pit remembers the other proverb, 'that gravity is a mysterious carriage of the body to cover up the defects of the mind.' [Laughter and applause.] The man who was a generation planning a sidewalk from his pigeon house at Galena to the railway depot, will never be President of the United States. [Loud laughter.] Bennett only praises him to kill him, as he did McClellan, and when he became Secretary of War to help Johnson slide Stanton over his back into the ditch [laughter,] the cork was out of the bottle, and out came the politicians aiming at the White House. Judge Sancho Panza at Barcelona, sagely remarked that the higher the witness climbs, the more he shows his—statesmanship. [Loud laughter.] Grant's name is famous on account of his wonderful facility for macadamizing the road from Washington to Richmond with skulls of American citizens [sensation,] and for his daily dispatches to Stanton, 'Send down 20,000 more men to start another graveyard!' [Sensation.] Socially, I like the General, but I cannot vote for Washburne!

"Pat picked out the owl—being something of a phrenologist—when selecting a parrot, on account of the size of his head. 'Will he talk?' said Pat. 'Like a book. Put him in a dark room, and feed him on meat.' Some weeks after the bird fancier met the Irishman: 'Does he talk, Pat?' 'The divil a bit of it; but (remembering his large eyes and intelligent shake of the head) he keeps up a divil of a thinking.' [Loud laughter.] In a word, we Father Matthew men, Good Templars and Sons of Temperance, can never vote for General Grant, because we have resolved to elect a cold water man for the next President. Mr. Train recited the following epigram, which, he said, would expose the greatest sham of our time. He said he dedicated it to the solid and stolid men of Cooper Institute and Faneuil Hall. [Laughter.]

"The Cops were caught in sixty-four, the Rads in sixty-eight,
By using McClellan and General Grant for presidential bait."
—Old Play.

In Cooper's sea of continental dams,
Political hacks and military shams,
Brobdingnagian wealth and Lilliputian brains.
Ulysses is launched by a few great names,

[Laughter.]

Floating late notice on the war's red waves,
Proud of his million new made graves;
A hundred journals record his every nod,
A hundred Leagues [illegible] as a God!
In freeing the blacks have we enslaved the whites,
And lost forever our manhood's rights?
Our American eagle surely cuts up rough,
Or sneezes when Washburne takes the snuff.

[Laughter.]

Is our national independence entirely dead,
To hurrah when Ulysses shakes his head?
In knowledge, the wisdom of an owl;
In politics, neither fish, nor flesh, nor fowl,

[Laughter.]

Wendell calls him the great American riddle,
While the party use him as a Jeremy Diddle.

["That's so."]

Good at a race, says Chase, or at a horse trade,
Let him stand in the balance, he hasn't Ben Wade.
When you meet the General, wherever you go,
Say: "Only five minutes—tell us all you know."
Hurrah! for our volunteers—we cannot state less—
Our greatest general is our General Greatness!

[Loud and continued applause.]

A New Era in Literature.

MR. FRANK LESLIE, one of the United States Commissioners to the Universal Exposition in Paris, has availed himself of his visit abroad to introduce some new and very interesting features in his popular publications. He has arranged with a number of the leading authors and artists of Europe to furnish NOVELS, NARRATIVES and ENGRAVINGS, which will appear ORIGINALLY in his publications, instead of at second hand, or through the stale expedient of what are called Advance Sheets, thus practically setting the copyright question by purchasing his literary material at first hand. This is a bold movement, and will prove to be a remunerative one, since "Honesty is the best policy." The first of these novelties is

Adventures Among the Brigands,

BY PIERCE EGAN, ESQ.

A narrative of Adventure in Italy, by that popular novelist and fascinating writer, which will commence in No. 129 of FRANK LESLIE'S CHIMNEY CORNER.

With No. 129 will also be given away a magnificent Original Engraving,

Stop Thief; or, the Monkey's Grip!

From the famous and popular painting of that name in the Paris Exposition, now the property of Paran Stevens, Esq., of New York. no6

THE DISCOVERY OF THE AGE

NO material which has ever been discovered has effected greater benefits in the household economy than

McGIMSEY'S MAGIC SOAP.

It is a labor saving invention as well as an invaluable remedy in scurvy, scald head, eruptions of the skin and piles. Dandruff is removed from the head, the teeth whitened and cleansed, plate and jewelry cleaned, stains effectually removed from carpets, furniture, clothes, paint, varnish or marble with the greatest facility and without injury to the material. It is a great saving of time and labor in washing clothes. It is the only known soap which will wash flannels with the ease of cotton or linen without fulling or shrinking. All these important objects can be effected without injury to the skin or the most delicate fabric. It possesses no deleterious qualities whatever. The world is challenged to produce a soap which possesses so many valuable properties, and which is so innocuous and safe. It is a home invention, and defies competition in any part of the world. It has become a necessity in Memphis, and its use is rapidly spreading throughout the South, and eventually will extend over the Yankee States, North and South America, Europe, Asia, Africa and Oceanica. Manufactured solely by C. P. McGIMSEY, Memphis, Tenn., and can soon be found at any respectable family grocery or drug store. The proprietor is determined that its manufacture shall keep pace with the rapidly extending demand for its use

DOMINION OF CANADA

Province of Ontario,

TEELEE ISLAND, LAKE ERIE

Grape Lands, Stone Quarries, Building Sites, etc., for Sale.

TEELEE ISLAND is situated on the west end of Lake Erie, at the extreme southern point of the Province of Ontario, about eight miles from the celebrated grape islands of Ohio, viz: Kelly's and the Put-in-Bay Group. Teelee Island contains about six thousand acres of arable land, and a large portion of this is now offered for sale in quantities to suit purchasers.

Its shores are washed by the blue waters of Lake Erie, filled with the finest Fish, bass, white fish, pickerel, etc.; and whilst the lake affords the choicest sport for the disciple of Walton, it also warms our atmosphere and prolongs our season so that we have summer as long as Northern Georgia and Tennessee.

Cotton Ripens in the Open Air.

The finest varieties of GRAPES, MELONS, PEACHES, etc., grow to a perfection unknown upon the mainland. We desire more especially to call the attention of the men of the South to this beautiful and fertile land, both because it is that Canada which gave an asylum and a welcome to many of their number during the late war, and because from that war's disasters abolitionist fanatics now rule the land of their birth, so that 'tis no longer affords them happy or profitable homes. A few Southern gentlemen are already with us, and we wish to form a society of men of the South, who desire at once a peaceful and a lucrative place of residence. Both for climate and soil we are peculiarly adapted for raising the finest varieties of Grapes, and large fortunes are yearly made from this most profitable crop.

Our waters swarm with Fish, our woods with Game, and in Spring and Fall, Ducks, Geese, Snipe, etc., are plentiful.

For Summer Residences,

We offer the finest advantages for health and pleasure combined. A balmy air, the bluest and purest waters for bathing, boating, fishing and all aquatic sports, whilst from the large size of the island, (eight miles long,) there is ample space for horseback riding, etc. For particulars address

In this indenture, the premises are described as follows, viz: "Beginning at a stake on the north side of Washington street, thirty-one feet six inches west of John Park's sixty three foot lot, running thence one hundred and fifty feet, more or less, to the alley between Washington street and Poplar; thence eastwardly with the south side of said alley thirty-one feet six inches to John Park's line; thence southwardly with Park's line one hundred and fifty feet, more or less, to Washington street; thence westwardly thirty-one feet six inches to the beginning."
